This three month internship will include river cruises through France, Austria, Hungary, Slovakia, Switzerland, Germany, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Italy, Croatia and Montenegro before continuing on to Vietnam and Cambodia.

Over the course of the summer, the chosen student can expect to gain experience in:

Journalism: The intern will sharpen their writing skills while independently managing a blog including publishing one blog post per day of cruising. The posts should be creative and engaging in order to attract as many readers as possible.

Social Media Marketing: The intern will also independently manage a Facebook and Twitter account chronicling their journey throughout the world, with the idea of creating a loyal fan base to follow the journey across all platforms.

Photography: The intern will take thousands of pictures to illustrate their blog articles and to engage their community of social media followers.

To qualify for this internship, students must be United States or Canadian citizens and current undergraduate (rising juniors & seniors only) or graduate students. To apply for CroisiEurope's Photo Tour internship, send the following items to applications@croisieurope.com by March 22, 2015:

Resume;

Cover Letter;

Sample Travel Journal: A sample article of 2 pages (maximum) in a word document describing a weekend in their favorite city, plus 5 to 10 photos that they have taken.

The Photo Tour team will receive applications from students, via email at applications@croisieurope.com through March 22, 2015. Twenty pre-selected students who pass the first round will be contacted via email by March 27, 2015 to schedule an interview. The student selected to be CroisiEurope's Photo Reporter for the summer of 2015 will be contacted on April 3, 2015.
