CroisiEurope, one of Europe's largest and most experienced river cruise operators, is continuing its North American expansion with its growth into Canada.

CroisiEurope marked their initial North American debut this fall with the launch of a new, dedicated website, www.croisieurope.com, and call centre. Based in Strasbourg, France, CroisiEurope's 38 years of experience and large selection of cruise itineraries allows guests to choose from three to 13-day voyages on 25 canals and rivers throughout Europe and beyond.

Most recently, CroisiEurope has unveiled three commemorative WWI cruises touring historical sites in Belgium and France to mark the start of the Great War that took place 100 years ago. Known as one of the most tragic conflicts in history, WWI had the effect of uniting Canadians as they fought for the first time as a distinct unit and, eventually, under a Canadian commander.

These three new cruises will sail on ships capable of navigating these challenging waterways, giving guests the unique opportunity to take excursions to visit the memorials, battlefields, related museums along with other cultural immersion experiences.
