Westport, CT (PRWEB) December 17, 2013

In the spirit of the Maharajas, Geringer Global Travel is introducing an exclusive new 15-day tour of Rajasthan, guided by Durga Singh Ji, a Rajasthani native and hotel proprietor who's from India's royal Mandawa family! This once-in-a-lifetime trip, which will also be accompanied by Indian specialist and company founder Susan Geringer, offers a small party of travelers (maximum group of twelve) an intimate look into India's complex dynastic history as seen by journeying through Rajasthan, its "Land of Kings," while staying at special accommodations.*

The escorted tour will arrive in India on October 6, 2014. Pricing begins at $ 5,780 per person*, double. Includes all meals, domestic flights, transfers, monument entrance fees. 14-night accommodations at five-star hotels and heritage/boutique hotels.** International airfare, guide's and driver's gratuities and cancellation insurance not included.

View the Taj Mahal, iconic monument to enduring love, by light of a full moon;

Enjoy a gala welcome dinner and special performance by Manganiyar musicians at Dera

Mandawa;

Visit Ajmer's Mayo College, known as the "Eton" of India for its impressive alumni of Indian royals;

Embark on a camel safari from Manwar Tented Camp to see the desert tribes;

Attend a private music recital by Nawab Khan playing the santoor (traditional Indian string instrument);

Visit SADHANA, a center near Delwara for empowering village women

Drawing on Durga Singh Ji's vast store of knowledge, guests will gain insightful commentary into the history and culture of India's most iconic monuments, cities and villages. Travelers will explore the famed Indian cities of Delhi, Agra, Jaipur, the golden city of Jaisalmer, Jodhpur and the "city of dawn," Udaipur, gazing in awe at the wonders built by Islamic Mughal dynasty who reigned over the area for centuries. The influence of these dynamic emperors (Akbar, Humayun, Shah Jahan, etc.) can still be traced in the culture and customs of Rajasthan yet nowhere is their legacy more in evidence than in the breathtaking sites of the Taj Mahal, the Red, Amber and Meharangarh Forts, the Chandni Chowk bazaar and the Palace of the Winds. Travelers will also have the chance to experience village and tribal life by staying at the Chattra Sagar Luxury Tented Camp located in Nimaj. The Manwar Tented Camp in the midst of the Great Thar Desert.

Additionally, Durga Singh Ji's extensive royal connections enable him to curate special experiences for his guests, from musical recitals, to village safaris, to behind-the-scenes institutional tours that'll enhance the India experience. Prepare to be entertained royally with a gala dinner and a special performance by a troupe of seven Manganiyar musicians upon arrival at Dera Mandawa, Durga Singh Ji's own boutique heritage hotel. Enjoy safaris by camel and elephant, attend a cooking demonstration, relax on a private boat cruise through the waters of Lake Pichola and enjoy a visit to SADHANA, a center for empowering village women. Travelers may also enjoy visiting Durga Singh Ji's own alma mater, the Mayo College in Ajmer, an elite boarding school known as the "Eton of India" which counts Indian royals among its alumni!
