James Hilton wrote “Lost Horizon,” a novel about the mythical Shangri-La, a place that inspired a legion of travelers to desire to discover the utopian destination described within its pages in hopes of creating their own mythical experience. It was one of my favorite books as a child and surely had some part in shaping my own passion for travel – as well as my desire to visit the Himalayan region that inspired the story – and now may be one of the best times to go.

Nepal, rocked by a series of high-magnitude temblors in the spring of 2105, is just getting back on its feet and tour operators around the world are saying that there is no time like the present to visit the country, including tour operator Geringer Global Travel in order to help in its rebuilding efforts. So, it is time for those inspired by the beauty of this country – be it solely from the pages of a novel or from one’s personal experience within its borders to participate in the recovery.

There is no better time than now to visit Nepal,” says Susan Geringer, owner of Geringer Global Travel. “Nepal is recovering from its April-May 2015 earthquakes and has now been deemed safe for returning tourists by Nepal's Ministry of Culture, Tourism and Civil Aviation. Tourism has always and continues to be an integral part of the country's economy, especially as additional tourism dollars will continue to boost recovery efforts."

To aid in the recovery and to give travelers a means to get back to or discover Nepal for the first time, Geringer Global has put together the Explore Nepal – Culture, Jungle and Mountains itinerary.

The tour lasts 14 days and 13 nights and includes the following:

Exploring the city of Kathmandu, visiting historic temples, shrines, pagodas and UNESCO World Heritage Sites

A visit to Nepal's living goddess, Kumari, in Patan

Viewing Mount Everest from the sky on a one-hour mountain flight

Spending a morning with famous pottery artisans in Thimi

Taking an elephant safari in Royal Chitwan National Park, also home to one-horned rhino and more than 350 species of birds

Trekking from Pokhara to Tomijing to Dhampus, with great views of the Annapurna mountain range and a two-night stay at Ker & Downey Lodges

Visiting with monks at a monastery in the Tibetan village in Hemja;

Staying at Neydo Monastery Guest House

Aiding the Recovery

Bookings of the itinerary will help assist Nepal in its rebuilding efforts. With every booking, a donation will be made to help rebuild the Sanjiwani Vocational School. The school sustained damage during the earthquake that struck Nepal on April 25. It is located 30 kilometers east of Kathmandu and offers vocational training to students in ninth and 10th grades. After the earthquake, the school has set-up temporary learning centers to serve as classrooms.
