

Experience the Dalai Lama on a spiritual tour through India

Devotees attend a prayer session of the Dalai Lama at the Kalachakra Buddhist Festival in India. (AFP/Getty Images)

By ANNE HARNAGEL
contact the reporter

AUGUST 6, 2015, 7:30 AM

Experience the sights and sounds of India on a nine-day spiritual tour offered by Learning Journeys. The excursion begins in Delhi where participants will tour the Swaminarayan temple complex, as well as help in the community kitchen of the Bangla Sahib Gurudwara, a Sikh house of worship that feeds close to 10,000 members a day.

They will also visit the sacred city of Varanasi to witness the Ganga Aarti devotional ritual and spend three days in Bodh Gaya at the annual Kalachakra Buddhist Festival, where they will be able to witness the Dalai Lama give his teachings. Other highlights include a traditional cooking demonstration at the home of a family and a sunrise boat trip down the Ganges River.

Dates: Jan. 12-20.

Price: From $2,175 per person, double occupancy; single supplement $900. Includes accommodations, daily breakfast, guides and intra-India airfare. International airfare is not included.

Info: Learning Journeys, (888) 884-8259

MORE:

A guide to the sherry bodegas of Spain

Five rules you need to know to stay safe while hitchhiking \(and avoid Hitchbot's fate\)

Seven chill California pools where you can escape the loud and the crowd

Follow us on Twitter @latimetravel, like us on Facebook @Los Angeles Times Travel.

Copyright © 2015, Los Angeles Times

