

The Villas of St. Barth

A peek inside the island's most exquisite properties

Written by Lindsay Silberman

The Villa: Amancaya

The hillside oasis—furnished with teak wood and lavender accents—is surrounded on either side by lush gardens. Amancaya even has its own waterfall.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

Amancaya has seven uniquely designed bedrooms.
This one is a private bungalow with garden views.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

The Villa: Aurore

With sweeping ocean vistas and a neutral color palette,
Aurore is one of the dreamiest beach houses on St.
Barth.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

The best part? Aurore's outdoor living room and dining area. It has a gas grill, heated pool and cushy banquettes for lounging.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

The Villa: Wings

Wings' contemporary aesthetic—with two oversized "wings" in lieu of a standard roof—is truly unlike any other property on the island.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

The wings were sculpted out of galvanized steel and house a tri-level space with four bedrooms, a cinema, a fitness center and oversized kitchen.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

A third-floor bedroom with ocean views.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

The Villa: La Plage

Named for its idyllic location on Lorient Beach, La Plage is a gated oceanfront estate with seven bedrooms.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

The semi-circular pool—and 10-person Jacuzzi in the rear courtyard—are perfect for parties.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

A separate bungalow-style guesthouse has two bedrooms, two bathrooms and a private deck.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

The Villa: Noé

The minimalist, ultra-modern space has two bedrooms, each with its own private terrace.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.

An infinity pool and outdoor dining space, with a cabana and BBQ area, are tailor-made for entertaining.

All photos: St. Barth Properties, Inc.