Got $9 million laying around? Love ridiculously expensive tropical locales? Great; Steve Martin has an offer you can't refuse.

Steve Martin's Memorable Roles

Martin's Villa Au Soleil has been put up for sale by St. Barth Properties Sotheby's International Realty for €7,250,000, which rounds out to 9,015,012.50 American dollars. Presumably if you have $9 million laying around, that extra $15,012.50 is pocket change.

Tropical gardens, lily ponds, infinity pools—this villa has it all (as it should, for that price tag). The home boasts four bedrooms with en suite baths, and outdoor showers, for those undaunted by drone technology. It also has one of those infinity edge pools that magically never overflows, with a view of “unforgettable vistas at sunset.” It definitely pays to be Father of the Bride.
