You don't have to be wealthy to vacation in St. Barth; but if we're honest, you won't fully enjoy all it has to offer without that endless supply of Benjamins. A renowned destination for the super-rich, A-list celebs and royalty alike, this Caribbean paradise is all about beautiful men and women, Prada swimwear and partying on million-dollar megayachts.

Of course, a place like this deserves an accommodation to match its beauty and prestige. So we went ahead and found you a stunning home on a private hillside location just for you in St. Jean. Just minutes from some of the world's best beaches, the four-bedroom Villa Apache is modern and sleek while still maintaining a true St.-Barth vibe.

Separated by two levels, the main level holds two bedrooms with en suite bathrooms and two more sit on the lower floor. The spacious living room offers floor-to-ceiling windows and doors that open up onto an expansive deck. Families and groups can enjoy cooking in the large, airy kitchen with its free-standing island and bar-top seating.

Outside, the black lava stone infinity pool is furnished with lounge chairs will most likely be your favorite spot in the villa. With sweeping views of the countryside, cotton-candy sunsets and looming palms scattered along the hillside, guests sitting poolside are treated to a breath-taking display of the beauty this island has to offer.

Rates for 2014 begin at $7,470 per week and $11,570 for the high season in 2015. If planning on a holiday excursion, the week of Christmas starts at $33,070. Now, who wants to take me with them?
