

Spain: 'Game of Thrones' fan tour showcases series locations

The Alcázar in Seville, Spain, is the setting for the Water Palace at Sunspear on HBO's "Game of Thrones." (Karol Kozlowski / Getty Images / iStockphoto)

By ROSEMARY MCCLURE

SHARELINES

 Fans of the TV series can explore Spain on a 'Game of Thrones' tour

MAY 12, 2015, 7:30 AM

If you're a real-world fan of the fantasyland of "Game of Thrones," you can explore sunny Spain -- a.k.a. Dorne in the series -- on an eight-day tour that visits Madrid, Seville, Osuna and Granada.

The customizable trip, organized by Zicasso, showcases Season 5 locations that stand in for the Water Gardens of the Sunspear, the palace of the Martells and others, and blends the cultural heritage of Spanish history with the epic fantasy of one of television's most popular shows.

Dates: Flexible

Price: From $1,899 per person, double occupancy. Includes accommodations, first-class train service, transfers, guided tours, entrance fees to UNESCO heritage sites and other activities. International airfare is not included.

Info: Zicasso, (650) 395-8890